Show politicians of all parties how much you care about the NHS by joining us for the Fylde Coast's only major pre-election rally for the Health Service.

Lancashire GP Dr David Wrigley, who is one of the country's top speakers on the problems facing the health service, will give the keynote address. He is co-author of two recent books on the NHS.

Come and see him at our rally, and question politicians from all parties on what they will do to ensure the NHS remains a public service based on people's medical needs, not their ability to pay.

All parliamentary candidates from Blackpool North and Cleveleys and Blackpool South have been invited to attend and contribute.

The event will be chaired by Canon Dick Cartmell from Bispham, who is a leading figure in Lancashire Together—an Anglican/Methodist group which is co-staging the meeting.

Health campaigners 38 Degrees are the other group behind the event. 38 Degrees is the angle at which avalanches happen, and members are trying to create a political avalanche to ensure the NHS is properly funded and protected from privatisation.

Blackpool, Fylde and Wyre 38 Degrees NHS Support Group prides itself on being a cross-party, cross-religion organisation. It can be contacted at bfw38degrees@email.com.
